It is difficult for me to recollect a time when I was not fascinated with the very notion of a desert. Walt Disney's film, The Living Desert, which I initially saw when I was 8 years of age, provided me with my first glimpse of this wondrous yet seemingly hostile environment. The images were hypnotic and captivating. I looked on in amazement at the promenade Cl deus of the male and female scorpions during courtship. Their rhythmic and coordinated movements as they grasped one another made them appear to glide in unison over the surface of the sand, each individual totally absorbed with its partner. In the next minute the female had suddenly and utterly transformed herself like some Jekyll and Hyde act, into an aggressive predator whose prior gregarious embrace was now a hold of death for the male. The indomitable desert grasshopper mouse, the ever sentient kit fox, the graceful shovel-nosed snake swimming in an endless sea of sand.
