More than 230 illustrations — nearly two-thirds of them in color — provide graphic artists, students and prehistory enthusiasts with realistic images of primeval creatures, from the gigantic Apatosaurus to equally striking but less familiar dinosaurs. Captions identify the long-necked Brachiosaurus, the bony-plated Stegosaurus, the rhinoceros-like Centrosaurus, and scores of other amazing creatures. All have been magnificently rendered by award-winning nature artist Jan Sovak, who has set the dramatically poised animals against bold backdrops of the prehistoric environment.
